FEATURED TEACHER

Jill Adzia:

On Saturday, April 22nd, Jill Adzia, shared her expertise in scratchboard art at a free demo at the Naperville Art League. Scratchboard art is engraving into a black or colored ink clayboard with varying instruments. Jill demonstrated different techniques and explained how to add color. Those in attendance were able to try techniques as well.

Jill Adzia is a scratchboard, watercolor and other fine arts teacher. She spends most of her time teaching at the Moron Arboretum and Water Street Studios.

She received a certification in Botanical Art and Illustration from the Morton Arboretum. Her love, appreciation and knowledge of plants, trees, birds and nature in general led to a very informative afternoon as she incorporates this knowledge in her art.
